ANNUAL CAMPAIGN

I didn't want to live anymore.

NOW, I'VE LEARNED TO LOVE MYSELF AGAIN.

“On the outside, everything looked picture-perfect. On the inside, I was dying.”

Matt lay in the park, his coat pulled tightly around him, shivering in the December cold, wondering how his life had come to this.

He'd been a diligent young man, happy to work alongside his close-knit family in their brokerage business. But, when he was 27, a motorcycle accident set his life on a destructive course. “I developed an addiction to pain pills, but I thought nothing of it because they'd been prescribed to me.”

It wasn't until the doctor stopped refilling his prescription that Matt realized the gravity of his addiction. “I became really sick and went to the street to get my pills,” he says. “No one knew I had a drug problem.”

Over time, Matt's addiction grew stronger, and he couldn't hide it anymore. “I lost myself and everything I held dear, not just material things, but my family,” he says.

Eventually, he wound up homeless, sleeping in the park, two blocks from his childhood home. “I was suicidal. I didn't want to live with myself anymore.”

It was then he came to the Bay Area Rescue Mission and, through our Life Transformation Program, encountered God and His grace. “The hardest thing for me was self-forgiveness, but now I believe that Jesus has forgiven me, so I need to forgive myself. That's what I've learned to do.”

His family has forgiven him, as well, and their relationship has been restored. “It's a miracle and a blessing,” Matt says.

He's passed on that blessing at our front desk, answering phones, sharing his testimony and inspiring others to seek healing here at the Rescue Mission. After graduation, he plans to stay in our transitional housing, find work and save money for a home. “I'm looking forward to a fresh start, free from bondage,” he says.

This Easter, Matt will be celebrating the beautiful new beginning in his life – made possible by your generous support. “I've learned how to love myself again.”

A Message from REV. JOHN M. ANDERSON

YOU RESTORE Hope

When we pass a homeless person on the street in the Bay Area, it's often easier to avert our eyes to our phones rather than engage with that person's very real pain.

That way, we don't have to hear their cries... or see how broken their lives are... or feel how much they suffer.

But their pain is real, even if we look away.

We have a God who stands beside us in suffering and boldly engages with our pain. He sees our struggles, hears our cries, takes on our pain as His own – and then, redeems it.

Easter is our celebration of that new hope!

Your generous gifts demonstrate that you turn toward those who are hurting – and want to offer them healing and restoration through God's love.

Because of you, people like Matt are celebrating HUGE changes in their lives. Matt's story is on page 3, and I hope as you read, you're inspired by how your gifts can turn a life filled with pain into a beautiful new beginning.

By God's grace, and your support, many like Matt are experiencing hope restored. On behalf of each person in our care, thank you for reaching out to them with the love and kindness that helps restore lives this Easter.
